Eyes speak volumes...

... and sometimes they reveal more than we want them to.

We put up a tough fight with our arsenal of eye creams and serums, but nothing really treats those permanent eye bags, crow's feet and frown lines.

What your eyes are speaking are truths of time and age.

Rejuvenating Our Eyes<sup>2-9</sup>

1 CROW'S FEET

Overactive muscles around the eyes contribute to excessive downward pulling of the upper eyelids. This also results in wrinkles radiating outwards from the corner of the eyes, commonly called "crow's feet".

SOLUTION: Relax the muscles around the eyes to smoothen crow's feet and release the downward pull, leading to a bigger eye aperture.

Suggested Treatment:
Anti-wrinkle treatment

2 FROWN LINES

These are short vertical lines found between the eyebrows that extend up to the central forehead, often referred to as the number "11".

SOLUTION: Relax the targeted muscles to reduce the movement to the skin that forms the lines.

Suggested Treatment:
Anti-wrinkle treatment

3 UNDER-EYE HOLLOWNESS

Volume loss can result in sunken depressions under the eyes. This creates the illusion of dark eye circles, which make us look perpetually tired.

SOLUTION: Reshape under-eye depression by restoring volume.

Suggested Treatment:
Dermal Filler

4 DROOPY EYEBROWS

Drooping of the eyebrow tails can lead to skin folding in the eyelids.

SOLUTION: Lift the eyebrows with HA filler and reduce the appearance of hooding of the eyes.

Suggested Treatment:
Dermal Filler

5 HOLLOW TEMPLES

Volume loss in the temples can create sunken contours on both sides of the head. This can also make outer brows look short and droopy.

SOLUTION: Create a smooth contour by restoring volume in the temples. This would also lift the brows and outer eye corners.

Suggested Treatment:
Dermal Filler
